

Nucleating and Growing a Nanotech Company Clinton Ballinger*

Evident Technologies, Inc., 216 River Street, Troy, NY 12180, USA

Forming a new company around new technology with new products that serve a variety of markets is difficult. Growing the company is even more difficult. There are many challenges to convert a nanotechnology into money-making products. This presentation will discuss the journey of one company, Evident Technologies, and the challenges faced with commercializing products based on quantum dot technology.
